Making projects a success is our business

What customers say

williamswoodward provided University of York with the technical (DBA) skills for their upgrade. Andrew Busby, Agresso Project Manager said...

" As well as providing excellent service and expertise williamswoodward are a good value for money consultancy. The consultant also worked well with internal University staff, which is a key consideration when bringing in consultancy for systems work. "

" I really appreciated the consultants' practical and realistic approach to assisting us with addressing our queries. I also really appreciated his prompt response to queries whilst offsite. I am confident the calm and logical approach taken by the consultant will continue next week during our go live phase. "

Rhiannon Owen, System Administrator, The British Museum

" williamswoodward provide a friendly and human approach to working with an organisation as a partner. "

Martin Clackson, Project Manager, Rother District Council

" The professional assistance that Bigen Africa received from williamswoodward paved the way for a successful implementation of the Agresso business solution. "

Francois Swart, CEO, Bigen Africa, Pretoria, South Africa.

" Agresso is doing exactly what it says on the tin. The team at williamswoodward have a good blend of knowledge and expertise and we would highly recommend them to any future customers. "

Assistant Executive Director, Tameside MBC

" I was delighted with both the Doable Project Management module and the overall experience with williamswoodward, it helped kick-start our Agresso 55 project and truly empowered our relatively inexperienced Project Manager. "

Matthew Gibbons, Deputy Director of Finance, Luton and Dunstable Hospitals NHS Trust

" We selected Xledger as the best system to match our requirements. We needed a system that will support our business as it grows, and the Xledger system is capable of this. "

Seamus Maguire, Director, Davies, Maguire + Whitby
