

Xledger goes live at Williams Woodward

Press Release May 2014

Williams Woodward Limited announces their live use of Xledger Software.

On 1st April 2014, Williamswoodward went live with Xledger, the innovative Cloud business solution for service and project based companies with extensive analytical requirements.

Williamswoodward are partners of Xledger Limited, which means that they are involved in selling, implementing and supporting the system. The business needed a new system to support the own growing organisation and as the business is extensively involved in providing project implementation services to customers, Xledger is ideally suited for their own in-house needs.

The company was established in 2006, providing consulting services to companies in the public and private sector, specifically those implementing Agresso. The demand for Williams Woodward's pragmatic approach to project management and implementing software has increased extensively over the last few years and has led to a rapid expansion of the business, which now incorporates selling products such as Xledger.

Regarding the Xledger implementation, Andrea Williams, Managing Director, says "It's been a revelation as to how quick it was to get Xledger up and running, which I largely attribute to the configuration available and ease of use. The training required for our staff, including consultants and project managers has been minimal. The fact that it is a Cloud solution has also helped as we have not needed to worry about infrastructure or on-going IT resources to maintain the system or further costs down the line for upgrades."

Finally Andrea Williams sees that the analytical capabilities of Xledger will add tremendous value as you can have access to real time information and KPI's on any device, anywhere, through inbuilt dash boards. This is a major benefit to dynamic organisations such as Williams Woodward who need to ensure that they can make the right decisions quickly and effectively.

The internal Xledger implementation can now be a showcase to prospective project based clients.

About Xledger

Xledger is a web-based management system, designed to be delivered as a true software as a service (SaaS) application, for medium sized, dynamic businesses that are looking for tight control of their finance and projects. The system provides an instant view of business transactions and accurate cash flow position, owing to its automatic link with banking systems. Essential business information is immediately available, in a personalized format via any internet browser, whenever and wherever it is needed. Xledger removes the hassle and costs generally associated with traditional ERP systems.
